The Vintage – 2017

“transparency and refinement”

All the talk about Burgundy today is the price. Coronavirus aside, Asia is now pushing the prices of Burgundy into LaLa Land, with collectibles like DRC and Leroy, you could swap a bottle for a car. Crazy or not, it's the new reality!

However it's not impossible to still find value.

The pre-eminent critic of Burgundy Allen Meadows had this to say:

“They are so delicious and refreshing that I predict you will be seduced. You almost certainly want to have some 2017s in your cellars, as I for one really love the style.”

After a run of tiny vintages that have put serious stress on the finances of all the vigneron, particularly the younger brigade we finally have a vintage with some volume. And its not just the volume that's good, the quality is fantastic as well. The flowering was early and very quick leading to an abundant crop, within the rest of the vintage going with barely a hiccup. The best wines are wonderfully refreshing, transparent and graceful with moderately firm tannic spines, where the all-important element of balance is supplemented by good but not high acidities. Many vigneron are likening it to a more dense 2014 or a cross between 2010 and 2012.

Indent c'est quoi?

Sometimes when buying wines, there is an opportunity to get a price advantage. With the indent system, you commit to purchasing wines that are already in bottle either prior to them leaving France or while already in transit. These wines you will normally receive within six months of the offer and at a significant discount on retail prices.

The pricing shown in this indent offer includes duty, excise, ALAC and international freight. It excludes GST which will be invoiced on arrival. Payment is required once wines have landed and been invoiced. Local freight charges may also apply.

Some of the wines are already here, while some are in transit and the balance will be leaving France shortly.

Côte de Beaune

FEMININE • SILKY • ELEGANT • MEDIUM-BODIED

The Côte de Beaune is home to the great benchmark Grand Cru Chardonnays – “Montrachet” and “Corton Charlemagne”, and also the famous Pinot Appellations of Pommard and Volnay. But some of the most surprising values can be found in villages either just to the north – Aloxe Corton, Ladoix, Savigny – or to the south – Santenay

Bourgogne • Côte de Beaune • Hautes Côtes de Beaune

These entry level Burgundies from vineyards just above, to the side of or below the main Côte d'Or offer brilliant drinking at an affordable price. Not big wines but lovely defined cherry fruit with remarkable persistence.

Camille Giroud	Volnay 1er Cru "Lurets" 17	88-91 BH	$104

Pommard

The neighbour of Volnay but the polar opposite in style. The iron rich soil here gives wines with a bigger richer tannic spine

Latour Giraud	Pommard 17		$65
Louis Boillot	Pommard 17		$68
Jean-Marc Bouley	Pommard 1er Cru "Fremiers" 17	90-93 BH	$146

Beaune

Once the equal in price of the very best in Burgundy, the early part of the 20th century saw these wines seriously devalued. Today they offer the best value 1er Crus available. Beaune typically have great texture and supple tannins although the best can age for a very long time.

Camille Giroud	Corton Grand Cru "Renardes" 17	91-93 BH	$173

• Lafarge •

It was with great sadness that we greeted the passing of Michel Lafarge in January of this year at the ripe old age of 91. The doyen of Volnay, he ranks up there with Henri Jayer as one of the greatest winemakers Burgundy has seen. He was the last of the old guard in the most positive way, a humble farmer, a man of the earth. He is ably succeeded by his son Frédéric who has been at the Domaine since 1978 and also now his granddaughter Clothilde. For us a visit to this domaine was always memorable, without fail Michel would pull out an old bottle at the finish not to taste but to enjoy and you never left before the last drop was drunk.

Denis Carre • A family Domaine in the throws of generational change, one to watch.

Jean-Marc Bouley • Son Thomas has now taken over and is already a star. JC's new favourite.

CAMILLE GIROUD
MAISON FONDÉE EN 1865

Camille Giroud • Hard to beat for sheer drinkability, wines that are all about texture.

David Croix • Picked by many of the top producers as a future star. Exquisite wines.

Etienne de Montille • Pure class with very fine tannins, one of the great names of Burgundy.

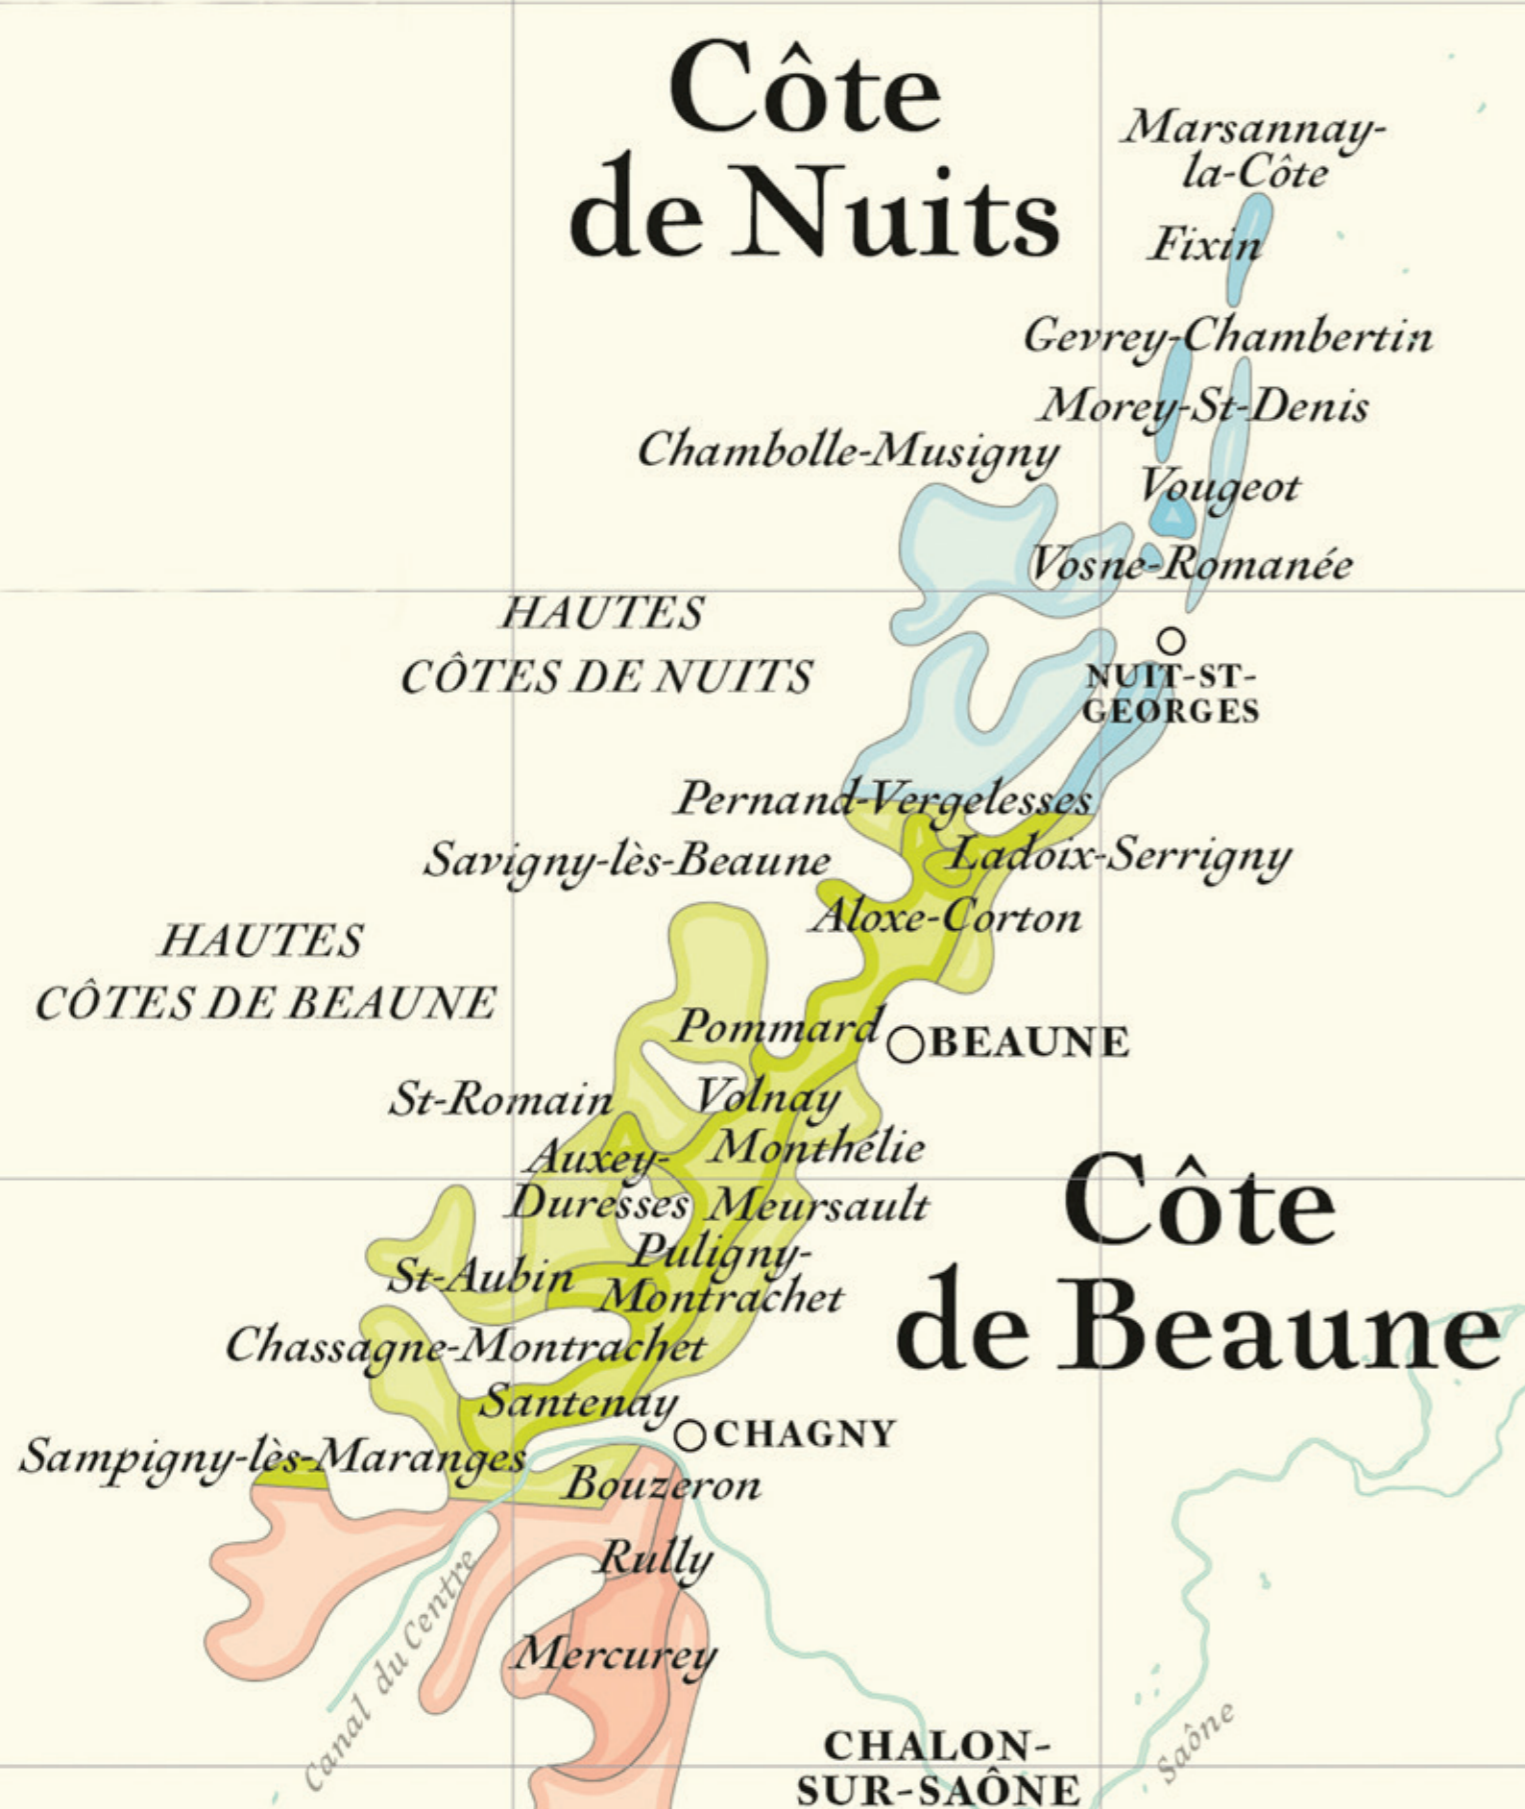

Lafarge • Michel Lafarge & granddaughter Clothilde

Côte de Nuits

Côte de Nuits

MASCULINE • DARK FRUITS • INTENSE • STRUCTURED

When people seek out the truly great Pinot Noirs, it's the Côte de Nuits they come to – Romanée Conti, Musigny, Chambertin- synonymous not only with the best but also the most expensive. However if you look hard you can find interesting values.

Bourgogne • Côtes de Nuits Villages • Hautes Côtes de Nuits

As with the Côte de Beaune, the areas above, below and to the side of the Côte d'Or proper offer a wealth of good value Pinot. Darker fruits and more body than further south.

Cyprien Arlaud • Serious young producer, where the wines have superfine tannins.

Marsannay – Fixin

The northern end of the Côte de Nuits is becoming very fashionable, in a medium bodied style the wines often have an earthy robustness.

Philippe Livera	Fixin 17		$66
Marchand Tawse	Marsannay 17		$43
Camille Giroud	Marsannay "Les Longeroies" 17	89-92 BH	$52

Edmond Fallot

THE WORLD'S BEST MOUTARDE

The reputation of Dijon mustard was acquired over the centuries thanks to the quality of the mustard seed and the use of locally produced verjuice (green grape juice). Although today the name Dijon doesn't mean that it was made in Burgundy; with one exception.

La Moutarderie Fallot based in Beaune since 1840, is the last of the independent family mustard makers in Burgundy. They manufacture exceptional mustard using traditional family know-how passed down from generation to generation: crushing seeds with a millstone that keeps all the flavoursome qualities of the mustard mix. Since 2009, they have been given Protected Geographical Indication for their Burgundy Moutarde.

Once you've tasted a Fallot Moutarde you'll never return to the others. Our personal favourite is the Moutarde aux Noix. (walnut)

New from Bourgogne

Crèmeux de Bourgogne Cassis 100g

cow's milk • velvety soft • tasty • powerful

The sweet, mild and milky texture is so delicate it will simply melt in your mouth. If you like it creamy, this triple cream cheese is a definite winner for you. The recipe uses the famous Crème de Cassis (blackcurrant liquor) which gives a pronounced taste of blackcurrant.

$17.50 each

Charolais AOP 250g

dense • soft • milky • mushroom undertone

This artisanal cheese comes from the granite plains of the Charolais region of Bourgogne. Cylindrical in shape with a generous size, which allows this goat cheese to age and ripe slowly and well with time. Capturing the best flavours of the goat's milk, the saltiness, acidity, and sweetness of its aroma opens up in the mouth. The colours and texture of the mould are pleasing, and give a lingering aftertaste. Can keep for several weeks.

$41.50 each

Epoisses

cow's milk • velvety soft • tasty • powerful

You may not know it, but Epoisses is actually a French word meaning "completely worth the effort" or "stinky but incredibly loveable". Recognisable by its orange rind, Epoisses offers a unique experience which will delight all connoisseurs of quality cheeses. Pairs well with Pouilly Fuissé.

$35.99 (250g) each | $13.99/100g
