

BURGUNDY

Indent Offer Vintage 2016

WHY WE LOVE BOURGOGNE

St Vincent, the Patron Saint of winemakers

Chardonnay and Pinot Noir grapes dominate the Burgundy vineyards, mainly due to the cool climate. Both varietals have established a reputation for the region's finest wines. Which makes them hard not to love. The wines that come out of here are some of the best in the world and home to some of the most expensive too.

In France you will find extraordinary cheese (as we all know) and the Burgundian Epoisses stands true to this. It is said that Napoleon was partial to this cheese with a glass of Chambertin.

We look to Burgundy when it comes to France's most celebrated foods. Beef bourguignon, coq au vin, escargots and Dijon mustard all come from this region. From Michelin star dining to artisan markets, its gastronomic flair offers a very special dining experience.

THE VINTAGE - 2016 -

- Burgundy has had a golden run, with superlative vintages in 2005, 2009 and 2010. And now we have a trio of vintages (2014 - a classic, 2015 - a truly great year) culminating in 2016, a year which we think ranks up there with some of the very best of all time.
- The weather in 2016 was by no means easy, with many challenges thrown at the vigneron. The most devastating being the early spring frosts which decimated some vineyards, Chambolle and Chassagne were particularly hard hit. This was followed by many outbreaks of mildew. However the weather in July, August and September was nigh on perfect, a real saviour.
- Here is what some of the world's top scribes had to say: "Despite extreme weather conditions in both 2016 and 2015, Burgundy's Côte d'Or has produced an outstanding pair of back-to-back vintages studded with hauntingly beautiful reds. The 2016s are more transparent to terroir than the 2015s, often stunningly so." Stephen Tanzer - Vinous
- "A classic Burgundy vintage in the best sense, with bright acids, concentrated fruit and excellent terroir differentiation. Vintages with this kind of profile and this kind of quality have not been very frequent in the last decade and a half, so Burgundy purists will certainly want to have some 2016s in their cellars." William Kelley - Robert Parker's - The Wine Advocate
- "There are some genuinely brilliant wines as the best are wonderfully refreshing, transparent and graceful with moderate to very firm tannic spines where the all-important element of balance is supplemented by good but not high acidities. In summary, if you can find and afford the very best wines, buy them as I for one really love the style." Allen Meadows - Burghound

INDENT C'EST QUOI ?

Sometimes when buying wines there is an opportunity to get a price advantage by purchasing in advance. With Bordeaux they have the En Primeur system where you buy in barrel and then receive the wine when it is bottled approximately two years later. For other regions of France such as Burgundy we offer an indent system, whereby you commit to purchasing wines that are already in bottle either prior to them leaving France or while already in transit. These wines you will normally receive within six months of the offer and at a significant discount on retail pricing.

The pricing shown in this indent offer includes duty, excise, ALAC and international freight. It excludes GST which will be included when invoiced on arrival. Payment is required once wines have landed and been invoiced. Local freight charges may also apply.

Some of the wines are already here, some are in transit and the balance will be leaving France shortly.

FEMININE • SILKY • ELEGANT • MEDIUM-BODIED

The Côte de Beaune is home to the great benchmark Grand Cru Chardonnays – “Montrachet” and “Corton Charlemagne”, and also the famous Pinot Appellations of Pommard and Volnay. But some of the most surprising values can be found in villages either just to the north – Aloxe Corton, Ladoix, Savigny – or to the south – Santenay.

Everywhere in the world where Chardonnay is grown, winemaker's heads turn towards the Côte d'Or in Burgundy where the greatest examples are produced. DOMAINE DAVID DUBAND

Back in the early 2000s when we were first visiting David Duband, he was a young gun rising star with very little wine to sell.

The wines completely wowed us with their gorgeous texture and beautiful silky structure. With the help of a passionate investor he has been able to expand and now finally in 2016 we have a little wine to offer, well worth the wait.

Pinotphiles everywhere should grab these before they're all gone, those who purchase the 2016s will also get first crack at the 2017s.

OUR SPECIAL SELECTIONS

I love everything about Burgundy. The towns, the food, the scenery, the people and of course the wines. This selection showcases what for me is quintessential Burgundy – power without weight, silky seductive tannins and above all balance. These are some of my favourite producers.

Scott Gray

For many of you I have chosen wines in the past and you know the style I like. Definitely not heavily extracted, rather pure definition of fruit and structure, with a mineral complexity. In one simple word, Classique. I also love discovering new wines from young producers that don't break the bank.
